This Technical Service Bulletin announces the release of new fuel lines for QST30 engines. These new fuel lines will improve product durability.

The fuel line part numbers have changed due to the introduction of new lines that have an improved liner material. The new lines have been implemented for use on all QST30 engines, since they will improve product resistance to fuel leaks caused by electrostatic discharge.

Temporarily the supplier produced fuel lines with the new liner material, but the parts were marked with the old part number followed by - PRO. Any fuel line that is marked - PRO after the part number has the new liner material and is equivalent to the new part number.

The improved fuel lines for QST30 engines went into production in April 2010. The new fuel supply tubes are presently available for service.
